THE WOMEN'S HOME 2013 ANNUAL REPORT

Executive Director's Message

PAULA PAUST

We are growing!

You have probably heard that The Women's Home is planning for expansion on our Spring Branch Campus. Since 1957, The Home has housed and nurtured women recovering from the loss of home, addictions and mental health crisis. You are familiar with our Treatment and Transitional program in Montrose, and have watched us grow with the newer community in East Spring Branch, Jane Cizik Garden Place.

The Home recognizes that single mothers and children are the fastest growing homeless population in the nation, and that one out of three female headed households with children live in poverty. We also recognize that the agency has the expertise to have a positive impact on these statistics for the families we will serve.

Without considering community statistics, we know the need for safe and affordable housing is significant. At Jane Cizik Garden Place, our permanent supportive housing complex, our wait list has reached 70 for an 87 unit complex and on most days the list averages over 40. It is clear that additional rental units are needed to serve the chronically homeless, transitionally homeless and very low income households. These are underserved populations, and they are populations that have found a safe, stable home at Jane Cizik Garden Place. In 2013, 90% of the tenants had lived there for a year or longer, and a stable home environment is a critical first step.

Last year, case managers and critical staff for vulnerable populations provided job search assistance to 12 tenants, while 7 obtained employment. In the first quarter of 2014, 100% of those who found employment had an increase in their income. Of those who moved out, 90% moved into other permanent housing.

With support from our community, we will provide supportive housing and similar outcomes to more women and their families. Our intent is to serve 40 families who have experienced episodes of homelessness, and 44 families who are at risk of homelessness because of very low income. Two full time case managers will be on-site to serve these families.

And thanks to the continuing community support we receive, we will be able in turn to serve more children. The new complex will have two and three bedroom units, instead of having only one bedroom units to offer. Through this type of environment we believe we will see meaningful outcomes, particularly where it relates to the children at the facility.

According to the principal of Treasure Forest Elementary, where the children will attend school, one out of five children annually do not complete the school year because of the need for affordable housing for their parents to rent. We expect to see 90% of our children annually completing the school year. To date, we have only four children living at Jane Cizik Garden Place.

The new housing will operate economically the same way Jane Cizik Garden Place operates. In 2013, the average physical occupancy was 99% and the economic occupancy was 96%. The average renewal rate was 92%. Nationally, the retention rate is 60%. The property has a project-based voucher to assist tenants with their rents even though rents are below "Low HOME" rents, as set by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The property is self-sustaining, and has a million dollar maintenance reserve. The Home does subsidize case management and other support services through philanthropic donors and collaborations.

Because of our experience with supportive housing, we know that case management and other support services are critical to the success of individuals and families. Thus, we have plans to build a WholeLifeSM Service Center that will house Spring Branch Community Health Center, a federally qualified healthcare clinic (FQHC), after school and summer school programs for elementary age children, mental health services and adult education/work force development. Needed services were identified through an independent community assessment process. The Center will serve our tenant families as well as the surrounding neighborhood, allowing us to serve this predominately Hispanic community.

Our target population for our housing and the Service Center will be families whose children attend Treasure Forest Elementary School. This is an at-risk school with approximately 90% of the children receiving free or reduced price lunches, and 80% having limited English proficiency. Spring Branch Community Health Center estimates that they will have 10,500 patient visits, including mental health services annually. The Home estimates that the children's enrichment programs, adult education, and workforce development will see 13,000 visits annually.

The Home has experience on a small scale providing psychiatric and nurse practitioner services, individual, group and family therapy, adult education and workforce development. In addition to that experience, it is our intent to partner with agencies that have specific expertise related to these needed services. The Home anticipates providing some behavioral healthcare services, such as individual and group therapy, as well as substance abuse services, including substance abuse education. There will be an emphasis on services for children, including therapeutic services related to trauma. Each partnering agency will identify specific outcomes that can be shared with The Home.

Our business plan for the WholeLifeSM Service Center calls for the rents from our tenant partners and program fees to cover the operating costs. To date, the Health Center has agreed to pay a substantial portion annually towards an anticipated $280,000 annual operating budget. The Service Center will operate Monday through Saturday from 9:00am-8:00pm. These are the hours that The Home will provide receptionist, janitorial and facility coordination services for our various programs.

As you can see, it is an exciting time for The Home, and we appreciate your support now, more than ever. With your help, we are poised to grow our ability to significantly impact even more lives with meaningful, lasting change. On behalf of the board, staff, current and former clients of our Montrose campus and the tenants of Spring Branch Campus, we thank you!

"Nobody, but nobody, can make it out here alone."

- Maya Angelou

Have you ever stopped to think that through your gifts to others, you enrich your own life beyond measure? Simple gifts that are offered with an open heart and belief in "better yet to come" for those neighbors in our community who need a hand. Not a hand out, a hand up. Most of us live the good life, surrounded by the safe and security of a home, a productive job, and most importantly the love and support of family and friends. But what if, those things were lost?

Many of our residents have known the despair and uncertain terror that comes with losing everything.

You, with your generous support, have turned around that despair to hope. That terror to serenity. You have made a difference in changing lives.

As we reflect on the strength of these collective gifts and the incredible mission to bring peace from crisis, the Board of Directors and staff of The Women's Home want to recognize you and your generosity. Through you, we see lives touched in ways that may at times seem impossible.

Together, we have made a difference for thousands of local women over the years.

What better way than to hear in their own words, gratitude for the little and the big things that now surround them...

TODAY, I AM GRATEFUL FOR...

Being here. I would be on the streets if I wasn't here.

TO BE ALIVE AND SOBER.

My happiness and my life choices.

The scholarship that was awarded to me for my education!

All the help and nurturing I get here from the staff, they really care.

For the future that I see coming, I can barely contain my excitement!

Message from the President
Brenda White

While reflecting on our Board of Directors activities in 2013, I realize how much progress was made in determining the next steps for growth and expansion of services to the women in our community. We are excited for the increased visibility we have attained, and thankful for the publicity we have received in the past two years. We continue to see great things happen with our organization, and we are honored to be at the forefront of the continued expansion of women's services in the Houston area.

Our primary goal in 2013 was to move forward with the strategic plan of The Women's Home, which focused on increasing the number of women and families that we serve, in order to offer hope and stability to a larger number of this population. In early 2013, board members voted to hire a professional services firm to perform a needs analysis in the Spring Branch area, specifically in the area of our Jane Cizik Garden Place Apartments, to be used in planning for the growth of our services in the area. Based on the results of the needs analysis, we moved forward on making these needs a reality. The most significant accomplishments in 2013 were as follows:

1) Purchased an additional two acres of land in proximity to our one bedroom community, Jane Cizik Garden Place. A two and three bedroom sober and safe apartment complex will be built to serve additional women and their families.

2) Designed a support center in Spring Branch on an existing acre of land, and began the process of partnering with other agencies to provide services to the residents in our affordable housing complexes, as well as the surrounding community. Services planned include after-school care and summer enrichment programs for children, GED/ESL classes, and parenting classes. We are also excited about the ability to partner with a federally qualified health care clinic for women and children as part of our support center.

3) Obtained a temporary trademark for our Whole LifeSM Program, as we move through the process of securing a permanent trademark.

Our board members are excited about the changes that are happening, and we are driven to see our organizational vision become a reality. We continue to work together to reach out to the community for support and resources, as well as using our individual talents and skills to help facilitate the process. Our goal is to offer hope and a stable life to a larger population of women and their families, and to this endeavor we are committed.

2014 WHOLELIFE – AWARD WINNER NATASHA JONES

From the time she was just 13 years old, Natasha Jones struggled with a drug and alcohol addiction. Growing up, she describes her life as troubled and stormy, without a permanent home, or adults to guide her. In 2010, Natasha hit rock bottom.

Facing the prospect of serving a six month prison sentence, she was given two options: head to prison, or turn her life around. Natasha decided to seek real change. That's when she was introduced to The Women's Home.

For nine months, Natasha says the staff and the other residents at The Home inspired and encouraged her in ways she had never experienced. For the first time in her life, she learned how to truly cope with life's challenges. She learned how to become a confident woman, how to have healthy relationships, and how to become a better mother to her three children.

She embraced The Women's Home's WholeLifeSM program wholeheartedly. She learned how to stay emotionally and physically healthy while facing her demons. She took classes on finance. She received job skills training. And perhaps most importantly, she reconnected with her spirituality.

For the first time in her life, Natasha has a stable home - her own.

Today, Natasha has a new lease on life. She now has a close relationship with her children. She has a car, a great job as an apartment complex manager, and she's currently enrolled in college. Late last year, Natasha and her husband were chosen out of 1,100 families to receive a Habitat for Humanity Home. For the first time in her life, Natasha has a stable home - her own.

The Women's Home applauds Natasha for her strength and courage and truly embodying what it means to live a WholeLife. Congratulations for all of your success Natasha!

May your story continue to inspire other women seeking transformation and empowerment for their own lives.
